

2018 Norwich Lecture

'It's good to be recognised by one's pier'

Given by

Professor Alex de Rijke

dRMM Architects, 2017 Stirling Prize winners

Wednesday 7th November 2018

The Enterprise Centre, University of East Anglia Lecture Starts at 7.00pm prompt and concludes approximately 8.15pm

Reception served in the foyer after the lecture

It is with pleasure that on behalf of the Norfolk Association of Architects, we invite you to attend the 2018 Norwich Lecture given by Professor Alex de Rijke, co-founding director of dRMM, a design studio renowned for creating innovative, high quality and socially useful architecture. The practice won the Stirling Prize in 2017 for the reconstruction of Hastings Pier on which Alex will focus.

Seating is allocated on a first come first serve basis. If you wish to attend this free event, please RSVP to natashamckitterick@feildenandmawson.com with the number of places you require but tickets will not be issued for the lecture. Car parking at UEA 's main car park (not Sportspark) will be complimentary but you will need to get it validated at the Enterprise Centre during the evening.

We are grateful to R G Carter for their generous support

CARTER